SUMMARY

Application developer with over two and a half years at IBM on myUCB, a GxP-regulated patient management system for the pharmaceutical client UCB. Grew from junior developer to the only .NET developer on the application, owning production diagnostics, bug fixing, releases, and Installation Qualification (IQ) documentation. Known for reliable, on-schedule delivery in a regulated environment.

EXPERIENCE

- .NET Application Developer, IBM, Bucharest

Jan 2024 – Present

myUCB patient management system · client: UCB (pharma)

 - Only .NET developer on the application, responsible for production diagnostics, bug fixing, updates, and IQ deliverables.
 - Delivered 5 major production releases plus regular dev and acceptance deployments, with 100+ merged changes including framework and dependency updates and 30+ Snyk vulnerability fixes, and zero rollbacks.
 - Diagnosed and resolved 30+ production incidents and defects through Azure Application Insights; run a pre-deployment dry run for every release.
 - Authored IQ protocols and GxP change records for every release; none returned with validation findings.
 - Took over the application after the senior developer left and the team was downsized; kept 100% of maintenance milestones on schedule.
- .NET Developer Intern, IBM, Bucharest

Aug 2022 – Dec 2022

 - Completed IBM onboarding and technical training in Angular, TypeScript, .NET, and Agile delivery.
 - Built a training Angular application on a .NET REST API (CRUD, routing, reactive forms), reviewed by IBM mentors.
 - Practised customer-needs analysis and requirement breakdown in team case studies; later rejoined IBM full-time.
- C++ Development Trainee, Pentalog, Bucharest

Mar 2022 – May 2022

 - Built a mathematical expression parser in C++ capable of solving complex expressions.
